

Dear Members of the Grant Committee,

I am writing to express my heartfelt gratitude for the opportunity you provided me to attend the 2023 EADV (European Academy of Dermatology and Venereology) Congress in Berlin. Your generous support not only enabled me to participate in this prestigious event but also opened doors to invaluable experiences and knowledge. I am excited to share the key highlights of my participation at the congress.

Meeting Scientific Leaders:

One of the most exceptional aspects of attending the EADV was the privilege of meeting and engaging with scientific leaders and experts in the field of dermatology. The conference provided a unique platform for networking and intellectual exchange, fostering connections with professionals whose research and expertise I have admired for years. This direct interaction with leaders in the dermatology community was a humbling experience and allowed me to gain insights, guidance, and mentorship that will undoubtedly influence my research and career in the years to come.

Excellent Talks by Speakers from Around the World:

The EADV Dermatology Congress featured a diverse array of speakers from various corners of the world. The quality and breadth of the presentations were truly outstanding. I had the opportunity to attend lectures that covered a wide range of topics, from cutting-edge research to clinical advances in dermatology. These talks not only expanded my knowledge base but also provided a comprehensive overview of the most recent developments in the field that I can implement into my future research.

My First Live Poster Presentation:

One of the most significant highlights of my participation in the congress was the opportunity to present my research through a live poster presentation. This experience was both thrilling and educational. Sharing my work with fellow researchers, clinicians, and experts in dermatology allowed me to receive valuable feedback, suggestions, and insights that will undoubtedly enhance the quality of my research. It was a unique opportunity to discuss my findings with individuals who shared a genuine interest in my research area, which significantly contributed to my personal and professional growth.

In conclusion, my participation in the EADV in Berlin was a great experience that would not have been possible without your generous support. The knowledge gained, the interactions with scientific leaders, and the opportunity to present my research will have a lasting impact on my academic and professional journey. I am deeply thankful for your confidence in me and the investment you have made in my education and career.

Thank you once again for this incredible opportunity.

Sincerely,

Ion Birkenmaier

PhD Doctorate Biomedicine, Life Science Zurich Graduate School

USZ | Dept. Dermatology | Wagistrasse 18 | 8952 Schlieren | Switzerland